

HANSA

General Statement on EU Ecolabel

Regulation (EC) No 66/2010

The EU Ecolabel, established under Regulation (EC) No 66/2010, is the official voluntary environmental label of the European Union. It is awarded to products and services that meet defined environmental-excellence and performance criteria set by the European Commission for specific product groups.

The EU Ecolabel applies only to those product groups for which the Commission has adopted such criteria. The products in Oras Group's offering – sanitary faucets, showers and fittings – do not fall within the scope of any product group for which EU Ecolabel criteria are currently in force. (Earlier EU Ecolabel criteria for sanitary tapware, established by Commission Decision 2013/250/EU, are no longer in force.)

Consequently, Oras Group products are not eligible for EU Ecolabel certification, and no EU Ecolabel is claimed, applied or provided on our products. In line with our commitments under the Empowering Consumers Directive, we do not display environmental labels that are not based on a recognised certification scheme.

For any inquiries, please contact us at sustainability@orasgroup.com